Synopsis : After 3 years, Kongpob is now a head hazer of the Engineering Faculty while Arthit has graduated and got employed by a company as a purchasing engineer. Their love relationship is still healthy but only known among their close friends.. As Arthit struggles to adjust himself from being a powerful head hazer in the university to a humble rookie in the company, he gets too exhausted to care about anything else. And this begins to take its toll on his relationship with his boyfriend, Kongpob.

In order to save this relationship, Kongpob decides to apply for an internship at Arthit's company. He also rents a room next to Arthit's to get around even closer to him. However, the more he tries, the more distant their relationship becomes. Arthit, meanwhile, becomes close with "Earth," a friendly senior female colleague who is also his adviser and his mentor at work. This test strengthens their relationship. Arthit and Kongpob are confident to take on any other tests as they are ready to grow, learn and tackle all those hardships together.
