Synopsis : "School life is just a subset of a reality."

One year after a group of students attempted to destroy Ritdha High School's Gifted program, things go back to normal. Rules and regulations, as well as inequality in the school, remain, including the Gifted program exam. This year, several new students are on everyone's radar as the most promising to get selected, especially Khram, a genius who hears a strange voice asking him to answer extra questions on the back of his exam paper. But something goes wrong; Khram and almost all of his classmates do not make it to the Gifted program. There is also a rumor that a senior from Classroom 8 is putting together some kind of plan. None of the students know that they will face a fight that goes beyond the scale of the school.
