Anna, a devout Catholic, her husband Pedro and their less religious, young daughters, Carmen and Lourdes, begin the pilgrimage to Santiago de Compostela, trying to overcome secrets and deep-rooted sorrows and crossing paths with pilgrims from all over the world, with their different backgrounds and beliefs. What no one expected was that among the discovery of the path was a mysterious and ruthless serial killer... Who will get to Santiago, and how will their faith be challenged and marked by the blood of the victims?
